My dearest Joyce —
I think you are the nicest little girl I know your beauty far exceeds that of any one else. You are sure to be a great success. Yours
Joyce

Maple Leaves 1939

VOLUME XVI

.. YEARBOOK PUBLISHED
BY STUDENTS OF THE
MAPLEWOOD-RICHMOND
HEIGHTS HIGH SCHOOL

Our glorious land today,
'Neath education's sway,
 Soars upward still.
Its halls of learning fair,
Whose bounties all may share,
Behold them everywhere,
 On vale and hill.

Dedication

TO DEMOCRACY WE DEDICATE
OUR BOOK, OURSELVES, AND
OUR EFFORTS THAT, THROUGH A UNITY OF EDUCATION AND
DEMOCRACY, MAY COME A
SANER WORLD. THESE TWO,
WE BELIEVE, MUST GO HAND
IN HAND; FOR "EDUCATION
MAKES A PEOPLE EASY TO
LEAD, BUT DIFFICULT TO DRIVE;
EASY TO GOVERN, BUT IM-POSSIBLE TO ENSLAVE."

G. E. DILLE

We are proud and fortunate to have as Superintendent of the Maplewood-Richmond Heights Schools, Mr. G. E. Dille. Well and favorably known throughout the State, he was this year elected president of the Department of Superintendents of the Missouri State Teachers' Association and heads of the East Central District of the National Forensic League.

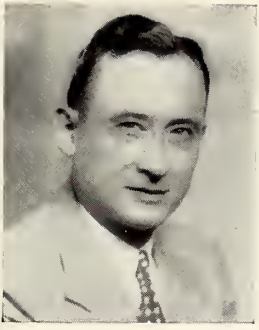

E. R. ADAMS

Mr. E. R. Adams and Mr. George Vossbrink, principal and assistant principal respectively of our high school and supervisors of the W. P. A. Junior College, give unstintingly of their time, knowledge, and experience to these two student bodies. That they are always ready to meet individual needs as well as administration problems is the highest tribute we can pay them.

JUNIOR COLLEGE ESTABLISHED

One of the outstanding accomplishments of the administration in the school year 1938-39 was the establishment of a Federal Works Progress Administration Freshman College. This college opened in September to students of St. Louis and the County. One hundred and thirty-five were enrolled the first semester and one hundred and twenty-four, the second.

Eight teachers, besides a librarian and secretary were employed by the W. P. A. and approved by the University of Missouri. Mr. Adams and Mr. Vossbrink acted as supervisors. A regular first year college course was offered and final examinations were given by the state university. Credit was granted by that institution.

The school day lasted from 4 to 9 P. M. Although many students had regular employment, attendance was good.

Besides the usual classroom work, the students organized many extra-curricular activities. These included a student council, a science club, and a basketball team as well as many social activities.

FUTURE "GRADS"

Members of the Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior classes in our high school are called the underclassmen; and it is their loyal support which contributes most to the many activities of school life. Besides whole-hearted cooperation in Senior functions, these groups have their own activities. Each class has an assembly every two weeks, and once a year has its own private dance. Not only do these students develop the social graces through these functions, but also there is a chance for development of initiative and business ability through service on committees and in offices. For years the senior body in Maplewood-Richmond Heights has tried to create a student council, and the present underclassmen have given the idea much thought. It is very likely that in the future we will realize control of student affairs, not by seniors alone, but rather through concentrated action of the entire student body.

The under graduate executives are:

Just as we get used to you,
Up you go and leave us.
Now's the time to say adieu
In spite of our regrets to.
Off to jobs or on to school
Real work is before you.
Since we step in,

To attempt to fill your shoes —
Our heads may grow a little too --

So give us cast-off hats and
Enough brass to carry us through.
Now you're freshmen once again
In humble habit you must do.
Our time has come.
Run along; this place is ours.
So long, Old Timers!

IN DEPARTING

My friends, for four long years toiled we;
But now, from all that was, we're free.

We've studied and fought, been carefree and sad.
We've danced and we've loved, what fun we have had!

With saddened hearts, but defiant mien
We'll read our new lines in the play's second scene.

Perhaps, there's one whose destination
Is to be leader of a world-wide nation;

And there may be one of whom poets will sing.
Who knows what twenty-five years will bring?

Old flames and memories held so dear
Will make us sad when we leave here.

But once again we start anew
With worlds to conquer and tasks to do.

—L. E. Cox.

SENIOR EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

"There will be a senior executive meeting at 3 o'clock." With this announcement, the president, Lawrence Peck, calls his group before him. As the meeting begins, the vice-president, Dolores Pritchett, talks over the quality of a recently purchased senior ring with secretary Barbara Davis while the treasurer, Arthur Martin, tries wearily to balance the senior class budget. Members of the committee, Pearl Boggs, Jackie Davis, Lois Burke, George Bishop, George Finger, and Douglas LeResche are discussing the problems of graduation with their sponsor, Mr. Vossbrink.

This body, the nucleus of senior activities, decides on the senior ring, the arrangements for the senior dance, special programs, and graduation details. Also, any difficulties within the senior class are quickly referred to this committee which capably regulates school life from a student perspective.

Finger, Boggs, J. Davis, A. Martin, Pritchett, Peck, B. Davis, Burke, J. Martin, LeResche, Bishop.

Annual Queen

SENIOR DANCE

April the fifteenth marked an exciting date in the annals of the Senior Class, and incidentally the rest of the school, for it was the date of the annual senior prom. Phyllis Charnock, who will reign as queen for the forthcoming year, was resplendent in her white net dress. Marian Williams, retiring queen, crowned Phyllis with a beautiful tiara of flowers. Lawrence Peck, President of the Senior Class, announced members of the retinue as they approached the throne. Unusually popular with the crowd were the flower girl, Jo Ann Lane, and the crown bearer, Keith Horneker. Emily O'Loughlin, the Junior maid of honor, Alberta Wehrli, the Sophomore maid, and Earline Mueller, the Freshman maid, completed the court scene. Surrounded by blue and white decorations, Art Kruth's orchestra made the evening one long to be remembered.

SENIOR PLAY

"Number 2 grease paint!", "Where's the powder?", "Have a pin?", "Where's my lipstick?" These phrases rang out from the dressing rooms as the cast of "Growing Pains" made last minute preparations before the curtain went up for the presentation of the Senior Class Play of 1939.

Under the direction of Mr. Dubry, the cast gave one of the best performances of the year. George and Terry, teen-age son and daughter of Professor and Mrs. McIntyre, kept their parents in a state of continual bewilderment and gave the audience one laugh after another with their adolescent first loves. Prudence Darling, the object of George's affections and Terry's jealousy, was the fickle young miss who had all of the boys bewitched. These, with the aid of an excellent supporting cast, gave a performance which the Seniors were justifiably proud to present to the school and its friends.

THE CHARGE

Half a yard, half a yard,
Half a yard onward.
Down on the football field
Struggled the eleven.
'Forward the quarterback!'
Right through the other team
Plunged our eleven.

'Forward the right halfback',
Was he a man dismay'd?
Not though he knew quite well
Quarterback had blunder'd.
His not to make reply,
His not to reason why,
His but to do or die.
Right through the other team
Plunged our eleven.

Crowds to the right of them,
Crowds to the left of them,
Crowds right in front of them
Hollered and cheered.
Right through the other team
Plunged our eleven.

Flash'd all their helmets bare,
Flash'd as they churned the air,
Slinging the passes there,
Charging a team, while
All the crowd wonder'd.

When can their glory fade?
O' the wild charge they made!
While all the crowd wonder'd.
Honor the charge they made.
Honor the water brigade,
Noble eleven.

"A" FOOTBALL

Clinching the co-championship of the Big Four, suburban football league, in their final game, the Blue and White tide finished a season of surprises and upsets with the excellent record of six games won and three lost. A heavy, fast-charging line coupled with a smooth, if somewhat inexperienced, backfield was responsible for the Leaf's success.

Great things had been expected of the '38 eleven, and in most cases the team came through; but defeat at the hands of Cleveland, U. City, and C. B. C. smashed all hopes for a perfect season. The losses were probably caused by a lack of precision.

"B" FOOTBALL

Once again, the future varsity teams owe a vote of thanks to Coach Rath. In his 1938 "B" football squad, he developed many players who will be outstanding varsity material for the next few years. Bob (wrong way) Reed, "Whitey" Bauer, Gerald Farrar, Harry Whitworth, and Harold Gracey are only a few of these prospects.

The record of four games won and two lost, while not so good as that of some other recent "B" teams, shows that the Junior Leafs played winning football. The important accomplishment of the season, however, was the development of a number of excellent prospects to help fill the eight vacancies created on the varsity by graduation.

"A" BASKETBALL

A team known for its expert ball-handling and fighting spirit — this was the reputation of the '38-'39 Blue and White basketball squad. Although the record of nine victories and seven defeats is by no means exceptional, it is no indication of the true merit of the team, which cannot be measured merely by games won or lost.

The team had few outstanding stars, but the ability of such men as Jack Gregg, Roger Snyder, Everett Sory, Sam Walsh, and Wilbur Doyle should be mentioned.

"B" BASKETBALL

An inexperienced but fighting "B" basketball squad compiled a record of seven games won and four lost. The team was made up almost entirely of "green" material and was a little slow in getting started, but because of the diligent work of Coach Rath, the boys came through in almost all of their late season games.

Howard Sanders, lanky center, and Ed Watzig, guard, who were the only veterans on the squad, did most of the scoring; but on the whole the teamwork was unusually good.

The overtime battle with U. City, from which the Blue and White aggregation returned victorious, was perhaps the best played and most exciting game of the campaign.

SENIOR TRACK

From the group of forty boys who responded to Coach Rath's first call for candidates for Senior Track was formed another of Maplewood-Richmond Heights' keen competitive teams.

The Blue Devils started the season with a victory over St. Louis U. High. The features of this meet were the winning of the mile by Tom Florence, a Freshman, in the excellent early season time of 5:15; and the victory of Bryce Hutchison in the 200 yard low hurdles in which he defeated Vince Eberle, one of the district's outstanding timber-toppers.

Another early season meet was lost to the powerful Central team. With weather so cold that all events were run in sweat clothes, some interesting competitions resulted. The mile and 880 runs, both won by Central, proved to be the most thrilling events of the day for the M. R. H. followers, most of whom stayed to the last event in spite of the chilling cold.

Strong in the distance runs, field events, and 440 yard run, Maplewood's main problem was encountered in finding good material for the sprints.

Most reliable in their events were:

100, 220 dashes	RICE, MOESSMER, WOLF
440 yard run	FLAVIN, HOLLRAH, CARTER
Hurdles	BRITT, HUTCHISON, WOLF.
880 yard run	SOMMERS, SORY

JUNIOR TRACK

When you have seen the blue and white colors dash down the cinder path or hurtle through the air, you have probably observed among them some of those outstanding Junior track men.

Because of the large squad of 65 boys who remained on the Junior track roster throughout the season, the outlook is bright for the Blue and White tracksters for the next few years.

Although many of the boys were inexperienced, the team, as a whole, came through in fine style. An early season victory over Central was one of the highlights of the past campaign. It was through the efforts of the Juniors that Maplewood won this combined Junior-Senior conflict.

Ed Watzig was perhaps the most outstanding member of the squad; he excelled in the sprints, the 440, the shot put, the discus, and the high jump. Other noteworthy performers were R. Nagel, B. Reed, and J. Stertz.

Row 1: E. Meyer, Adair, Stertz, Duncan, LeFrancois, Hutchison, Neuwoehner, Barnes.

BASEBALL

Sock! Pardon the disturbance but that's just one of Coach Wagner's "diamond men" sending the old apple for a ride.

Baseball has again taken its place on the sports calendar of the school because of the interest of an increasingly large number of boys who insist on participating in the national sport. With the eight returning lettermen — Webster, Dapron, Marsh, Badock, Rudolf, Deaver, Doyle and Wismann — the team should emerge from the shadow which has darkened Maplewood's baseball records and should win a majority of games.

The Lineup:

Catch	-----	KELLY, WISMANN, BADOCK
First Base	-----	WIDDICOMBE, BAUER
Second Base	-----	DEAVER
Third Base	-----	MIDDLETON, GLAESE
Short Stop	-----	DOYLE, GREGG

W R E S T L I N G

1-2-3. The man's down, but the rating of the winner's team has come up. Wrestling as a team sport was one of the innovations of the 1938-39 school year, but it ranks with the best of them now.

Started by a comparatively small group of enthusiasts, the club developed interest rapidly, and when the first call for candidates was issued at the close of football season, more than twenty boys reported.

As it was their first season, little was expected of the grapplers. They came through, however, with an early season victory over Madison and two second places at the State Tournament, where the three Blue and White representatives tied for third place in the team competition.

Coach Del Pizzo will lose only one member of this year's squad through graduation. With such material as Jack Page, Ben and Bob Bosworth, John Kelly, Tom Florence, and George Peters, he should develop some excellent teams in the years to come.

Row 2: Schugert, Mr. Del Pizzo, Jones, Burkart.

" M " C L U B

Who are the big, brawny heroes that make feminine hearts beat faster at Maplewood? Who are the "pranksters" of the school? They are none other than the members of the "M" Club, Maplewood's honorary athletic organization.

The chief function of this club, which was organized in 1934-35 and has been sponsored this year by Coaches Douglas and Rath, is to promote cooperation in sports and friendliness among the school athletes. To attain this, the club sponsors a Varsity-Faculty Basketball game and a Football Dance annually. A banquet given for the Basketball team has been added this year to the activities of the club.

Membership is open to all lettermen, and no initiation ceremony is required.

Row 1: Britt, Lutz, Monolo, Moessmer, Badock, Gregg.

Row 2: Mr. Douglas, Nagel, Marsh, Sory, Lockmoeller, Flavin, Widdicombe, Mr. Wagner.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Hats off to the Girls' Basketball Team for the honors it has brought to the school this year! Beginning with the interschool class team competition on the first all-school play day, the team went through a brilliant season climaxed by the victory over Webster with a score of 19 to 18. It was the first defeat for a Webster Varsity in six years.

The results of the individual class games were:

Freshman	1 tied	1 lost
Sophomores	4 won	1 lost
Juniors	2 won	2 lost
Seniors	3 won	3 lost

At the Kirkwood play day, two Maplewood forwards, Evelyn Goller and Ruth Applebee, competed in a speed goal-shooting contest.

The Varsity line-up was as follows:

Dorothy Schrick
Evelyn Goller
Ruth Applebee
Alice Ray
Ruth Rice
Lorraine Borgmann

GUARDS

Dolores Pritchett (captain)
Georgia Breitenstein
Mildred Wisneski
Jean Bugg

After hours

Success in life depends largely on the patterns one forms as a student. Believing that it is vitally necessary that the pupil find his life work through experience, the high school of today offers many extra-curricular activities which may stimulate vocational interests. These activities are open to all. With a balanced program of class work and outside hobbies, modern educators strive for a more liberal development of student knowledge.

We are particularly proud of our activities here at M. R. H. S. because they embrace such a wide range of interests. Fellows and girls may go out for sports, music, forensics, science, hobby, journalistic or other clubs. Through club work potential talents which help in choosing a career are often discovered. Then too, through participation in many things the student becomes more versatile. No activity is compulsory, the advancement made depends entirely on the individual, there is no disciplinary rebuff, no reward in grades; therefore, a student's accomplishment in his extra-curricular work is a true index to his character. To participate then, in these activities is to create incentive which, once formed, guides the student to a more liberal education than his basic class work alone can give.

THE ANNUAL

The issuing of the new Maple Leaves will close the final chapter of the Maplewood-Richmond Heights school life for 1939. Since each annual is a stepping stone for the coming one, we have striven to make ours a worthy successor to those of other years, and a challenge to future ones.

At the senior dance on April 15th, Miss Phyllis Charnock was crowned Annual Queen. Her attendants were Emily O'Loughlin, Alberta Wehrli, and Earline Mueller.

THE CHIP

Pictures, cuts, cartoons, features, human interest stories, comments by staff members, and five big columns full of school news. These items were promised to subscribers as the annual campaign for subscriptions to the CHIP, official school newspaper, got under way.

In spite of the fact that there were fewer buyers than were expected, the CHIP remained true to its promise. Each issue has contained at least one or two pictures, a cartoon, and special features. The larger five-column paper (a '38-'39 innovation) seems to have proved that journalism is in Maplewood-Richmond Heights High School to stay.

In addition to the regular task of publishing the paper, the CHIP Staff sponsored a Hallowe'en dance, held candy sales after school, and in the spring sent several of its journalists to Columbia, Missouri, to participate in the state-wide contest.

This year the members of the Torch, those upper-classmen who, in the opinion of the faculty, rank high in scholarship, leadership, character, and service, have made their chapter of the Honor Society a more active organization than it formerly has been.

Sponsored by Miss Barkley, the club has started the practice of having some social activity after the semi-annual initiative services. For further entertainment, the members, as a group, attended a performance of the Princeton Triangle Club Play, "Once Over Lightly", given during the Christmas season.

In order to give the Freshmen a better idea of the meaning and goals of Torch, a part of the traditional induction ceremony was re-enacted in Freshmen assembly.

THE ROSTRUM

When the sharp crack of the gavel brought the first meeting of the speech club to order early in the school year, there were only a few students in the room; but those students have made an outstanding record in debate and speech work.

The debate team: Affirmative — Bryce Hutchison and Dick Heilbron; Negative — Arthur Martin and James Jenkins has successfully argued its way through the season to become the third best team in the state. While gaining this position, the team attended tournaments at Columbia, Webster, Liberty, Maplewood, and an inter-state contest at Lexington.

The Rostrum speakers attended contests at Brentwood, Webster, and finally the state tournament at Liberty, where, facing the best speakers of our state, Edward Garnholz, Wini Lane, Margaret Kraushaar, Arthur Martin, Sidney Guller, and Barbara Davis succeeded in winning their way to the finals. When the results were tallied, it was found that Martin and Guller had gained third place in state in extempore speaking and humorous declamation respectively.

This year for the first time school letters were awarded to speakers deserving them.

THE HI-Y

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Piggott, the Hi-Y was organized with the design of meeting the four-fold needs of a boy's life. New spirit has come into the organization with the introduction of one gym night a month, frequent motion pictures and speakers, greater publicity, and a membership campaign. The committees in the club are athletic, publicity, program, finance, social welfare, and social. Activities have included a spring dance, delivery of Christmas baskets, and interschool athletic competition.

The Radio Club, sponsored by Mr. Funke, has been very active this past year in its contacts with other clubs and stations. The club owns and operates its station which was licensed last year.

The purpose of the club is to give boys who are interested in radio a chance to display their abilities in connection with it, and to receive the benefits of their experience.

Two members of the club, Jay Gooch and Raymond Lutz, have their government operator's licenses.

LENS OF SCIENCE

Lavoisier Chapter in Junior Academy of Science

As an outgrowth of last year's Camera Club, the Lens of Science came into existence at the beginning of the 1938-39 term under the sponsorship of Miss Herman. The Club is divided into four principal sections: microscopy, photography, geology, astronomy.

Last fall the members went on an all day hike to the Webster Groves Nature Society's Ranken Estate. January produced a very interesting speaker for the club; Dr. Shipton of Washington University's Geology Department spoke to the students on his famous collection of gems.

This February the Lens of Science became the Lavoisier Chapter in the Junior Academy of Science.

This is the first chapter to exist at Maplewood High, and those who are members at this time have the privilege of being charter members. The chapter, with a display featuring biological projects, participated in the Academy's Annual Exhibit, April 1st.

It is now a sound organization and boasts its own banner of blue and white satin.

Drop in room 200, 3:30 P. M. either the first or third Thursday of the month and you will find yourself in the midst of a G. A. A. meeting. The Girls' Athletic Association, an organization founded at Maplewood in 1924, is being called to order by the president, who explains the purpose of the club as one to create interest and ability in girls' sports, to encourage the principal health habits, and to develop good sportsmanship in the group. The secretary calls the roll. The social manager talks about the two annual functions of G. A. A., the Puff Pant Prom, started in 1934, and the Spring Banquet, at which the officers for the ensuing terms are elected. The meeting continues —

The club, under the guidance of Miss Mitchell, girls' physical education instructor, sponsored intramural as well as interschool competition in all sports.

Row 1: Gad, H. Zerovich, Hesse, Breitenstein, Charnock, Pritchett, Schrick, Stephens, Goller, Ellison, Marx, Ray.

THE PEP CLUB

Ala-ka-z. Ala-ka-zam.
 Truck on down
 Yea, man!
 Swing it high,
 Swing it low.
 Come on Maplewood.
 Let's go:
 M-M-Map-p-p-le-w-w-ood
 M-a-p-l-e-w-o-o-d.
 MAPLEWOOD!

With this and many other new yells, Maplewood's Pep Club swung into its third year at Maplewood High.

The pep club, sponsored by Miss Mitchell, has probably done more to promote better sportsmanship than any other organization in the school. Besides performances at the high school athletic contests, pep assemblies were held to arouse and inspire students.

The social function of the year was the annual pep dance—a backward dance—which was given April 12th.

CHESS CLUB

Kings, queens, knights! Royalty has reached a high peak in Maplewood this year, as the Chess Club membership has increased to forty ardent players, all aspirants to the chess team.

The chess team is composed of the club's seven best players who represent our school in tournaments held by The Greater St. Louis Chess League. A complete tournament is played off each semester by the five schools competing. The first tournament of the '38-'39 season was won by Soldan. The team with the highest number of points at the end of the year will receive a handsome traveling trophy.

A CAPPELLA

The A Cappella organization has more than doubled in size since last year, and its quality has improved correspondingly.

Under the direction of Mr. Best, the choir consists of a group of the best voices in the school. The members have formed two classes, the boys supervised by Mr. Best, the girls by Miss Zahn. The girls and boys meet separately twice a week and together on three days.

The performances of the choir have been frequent and varied, including public performances at Jefferson Barracks, the Maplewood Rotary Club, Richmond Heights P. T. A., the Christmas Concert, and mid-year graduation. In addition to these activities, the choir has given several enjoyable performances at our assemblies and has carried out the tradition of caroling in the halls before Christmas.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

GIRLS' QUARTET

MISS V. ZAHN

As lilting feminine voices come floating out of the music department, the realization comes to us that the Girls' Glee Club is making genuine improvement. Miss Zahn's able direction and the enthusiasm of the members have both contributed to its progress.

Not only have the girls themselves enjoyed this activity, but they have provided moments of pleasure for the entire student body by furnishing music for assemblies and the Christmas Concert.

From the group have been chosen a trio and a quartet. Mary Lou Aldridge, Ruth Bailey, and Margaret Kraushaar, the personnel of the trio; Peggy Buchroeder, Ruth Bailey, Helen Woolston, and Mary Lou Aldridge, quartet members, are responsible for those heavenly harmonies heard when the club is in session.

Row 1: Dick-Peddie, Parison, Bailey, Schmidt, White, Metz, Fleener, Miss Zahn, Peck, Schesser, Buchroeder, Martin, Aldridge, Rose, Woolston.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

Those clear, high tenor notes blended with the deep, rich baritone are coming from the Boys' Glee Club. Such modulation, such control, such harmony! Particularly do their voices swell to the rollicking rhythm of the "Song of the Jolly Roger." Since the boys did so well at both district and state contests, we shall expect great things of them if they enter the national contests next year, as they hope they will.

Bert

Carleton Jones, Frank Wherry, Bert Reager, and George Finger are members of the quartet.

THE BAND

ON PARADE.

Tap, tap, tap, tap — one, two, three, four — go the feet keeping time to that stirring march. The place? A front classroom in Maplewood high. The time? Any first period in the fall of the year. The reason? The Maplewood-Richmond Heights Band is practising on the campus for the fine performances it gives at athletic contests, assemblies, the Maplewood Municipal Christmas Tree, and the annual Music Festival held at University City.

This year the roster has been enlarged to fifty-five members, adding a bass and alto clarinet to complete the instrumentation needed to perform symphonic composition. A well-rounded repertoire has been developed to furnish music for any occasion, and within the band is an excellent brass quartet. Under the direction of Mr. Van Meter, our band is following its high-stepping little drum major, Claire McGinness, to higher standards of achievement.

 Row 5: Carrick, Pinson, Callahan, Merello, Dunser, Gill, Hansen, McCorvey, L. Roberts.

THE ORCHESTRA

The orchestra, under the direction of Miss Zahn, is divided into three sections: advanced, intermediate, and beginners' classes. The advanced class is the complete all-school orchestra, and the remaining two groups are practice classes for those who are not yet ready for the higher orchestral group.

Music for Commencement exercises was again furnished by the orchestra: the string section at mid-year, and the entire orchestra in June.

DRAMATICS GUILD

"All the world's a stage and all the men and women merely players." Keeping this in mind, Mr. Dubry has organized a dramatics club to give pupils an opportunity to develop their histrionic ability.

One may hear Barbara Davis saying, "You mean there's no hope for me at all?" But there was really great hope for her, because through her role in "Stage Door" she proved her ability along with many others who turned in a grand performance. Kay Hesse, dumb Dora of the show, Lorraine Billman, our negro impersonator, and Maurice Dampier, an elderly gentleman, all showed unusual talent.

Here's to the future success of the Maplewood Dramatics Club.

JUNIOR PROM

Red balloons, patriotic colored crepe paper, and silhouettes of Washington made a festive setting for the Junior-Senior Prom held this year on the night of February eighteenth.

As on previous occasions, the coronation ceremony was formal and impressive. Alyce Ray, crowned by the retiring queen, Virginia Kelly, was preceded by trumpeters, La Verne Ray and Erna Gereckle; flower girls, Carolyn Joyce Dubry and Mary Sue Prosser; the crown bearer, Ferdinand Del Pizzo, Jr.; six junior attendants; and two special senior maids.

Mary Lee Hickey and Janice Martin were special senior maids. Junior attendants were Jane Ellison, Mary Gillis, Emily O'Loughlin, Evelyn Goller, Mary Lee Cattlett, and Joyce Weber. Ribbon bearers were Lorraine Borgmann, Mary Mollica, Maxine Monday, Helen Patrick, Patricia Hille, Georgia Arnold, Jean Frink, Wanda Applebee, Marian Harkins, Elizabeth Detmar, Helen Martin, and Marie Rulfs.

Blankety-blank Verse

"Who's who" and what's what,
Candid shots and "Jack-in-the-pot."
Dilly doings with square toed shoes
And other stuff that goes up flues
Are concentrated in this section
For your disapproval or selection.

Characterization is our motto
Other people say it's lotto.
Popularity is feature's pet
And you'll say that we're all wet.

The facts remain that laughs are here
So cast your lamps on the pages, dear,
And if you go blind from the glare
We'll surely know this section's rare.

Her skin is soft and brown and tanned,
So smooth and soothing to the hand.
I love to pat her rounded cheek
And see her form so slim, so sleek.

Her grace is quite of world renown.
She slides and glides scarce on the ground.
Her dashing form soon skyward goes
And then returns on graceful toes.

Dear Schuckles;
You're an awful gop
but I love you
Don't forget knitting in
I know I should. And I'd like to give you a little advice. For goodness sakes don't park on the wrong side of the street by a stop sign. Mail a letter and I'll call on you and order you a lot of love and

The Cooperative Plan . . .

of college education is keyed to the needs of modern business and industry. Students alternate study in college with work in industry on a quarter basis, learning and earning, gaining practical experience and making valuable contacts. Upon graduation they have sound preparation for a job, are promptly placed and have experience on which to build a career.

What Can You Do?

In applying for a position, your employer will be sure to ask this question. For instance:

- Can you type accurately and with good speed?
- Can you take dictation rapidly and transcribe your notes with ease and speed?
- Can you operate a Comptometer?
- Can you transcribe from the Ediphone?
- Can you really keep partnership or corporation books?
- Are you neat in your penmanship?
- Are you familiar with postal rules and regulations?
- Do you know how to handle the telephone?
- In meeting strangers and visitors, are you at home and natural?
- Do you like to work with people and do you find it easy to get along with them?

Why do so many young people fail to succeed in life? One of our greatest psychologists, Professor James, states the reason so many young people fail in life is because they have no definite aim. They do not know, themselves, what they want. Consequently, they are drifting, getting nowhere.

A complete business training in secretarial work, practical bookkeeping, office machines, and accounting will qualify you to fill a great many positions, especially as a bookkeeper, stenographer-bookkeeper, stenographer, or secretary.

We extend to the Maplewood High School 1939 graduates and their parents a most cordial invitation to visit the Mound City College before enrolling.

Work And Attend School at the Same Time.

Let us show you a list of students who are now employed while taking courses with us.

Dear Joyce,
I think you're dumb & pretty flighty,
And you'll shoot the bull till you are ninety,
But I want you to know right good & well,
That I think you're attractive and pretty well!
